history

The story began seventeen years ago...

In 1999, Pilipinos Sharing Smiles Together (PSST) was established to spread the Filipino culture and heritage at Troy High School. PSST held its first Pilipino Culture Night (PCN) on April 28, 2000 at Saint Irenaeus Catholic Church in Cypress to help showcase the beauty and richness of the Philippines. Two years later, in 2002, PSST presented the first Pilipino-American Culture Night (PACN) thanks to the leadership of Xavier Hernandez, Minerva De Leon, and Karina Layugan. Through the addition of the skit, PACN celebrated not only the culture of their parents and homeland, but also their American heritage.

In the many years since its establishment, PSST has grown to become one of the most well-known and popular clubs at Troy High School. Students of all different races and backgrounds congregate within our club to celebrate the Filipino culture.

PACN is an embodiment of the effort, dedication, passion, and talent that all our members have for this club. It is a culmination of the many hours spent on dancing, acting, and singing. Tonight, PSST proudly presents to you Family Matters: Languyin Mo Lang. Enjoy the show!

advisor's address

Mabuhay!

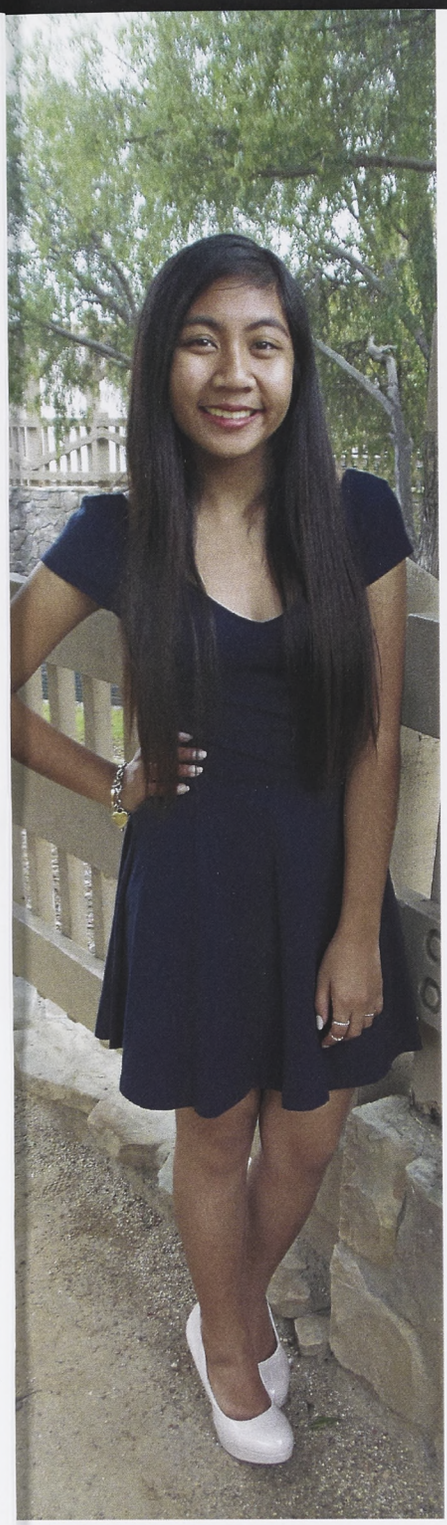
Tonight's event is almost a coming home celebration. For several years, we have held our Pilipino-American Culture Night in La Mirada. For the first time in nearly a decade, we are back in Plummer Auditorium. This beautiful auditorium has been a central performance venue since the 1930's. It was renovated in 1997 and its mural on the exterior west wall was restored, as well.

Coming home is an ongoing theme with PSST. There are many students that find solace within this organization. This is possibly the only place that many can identify with others. We are Filipino-American. Where does the Filipino end and the American begin? Some of us are recent immigrants. Many are first generation American; others are second or even third generation American, and some may be half quarter Filipino. Others within PSST are not Filipino, yet they are as welcome as any Filipino into our club. What defines us is many things, some of which are those jokes we share with each other that begin with, "You know you're Filipino, if..." My favorite one is, "your mother/sister is a nurse." My dad's side of the family has three with two more in school for nursing.

Are we nurses and dancers, friendly to the point of practically adopting people into our families– that's where half our uncles and aunts come from, by the way – or a "fine example of how an ethnic group should assimilate into the United States"? We do have an identity. All groups do. We are doctors, we are nurses, we are lawyers. We are scientists, we are computer specialists, we are mechanics, we are business owners. We are administrators, we are teachers, we are athletes (Go Pac Man!), we are musicians, we are soldiers. We are mothers, fathers, sons, and daughters. We are everything that makes a society strong. Is that the Filipino in us, or the American?

It is the human thing to do. Welcome home and Mabuhay!

Mr. Joseph Castillo
PSST Advisor since 2001



president's address

Magandang gabi sa inyong lahat,

Good evening everyone and welcome to Troy High School's Pilipinos Sharing Smiles Together's 17th annual Pilipino-American Culture Night – Family Matters: Languyin Mo Lang. For the past 17 years, PSST has striven to spread our culture to everyone we cross paths with. Tonight, I am proud to present a year's worth of dedication and diligence put into one show full of passion and lessons.

Every year, PSST puts on a show that is the epitome of our school year. Although the skit and the dances are different every year, the message stays the same: to spread our culture and our smiles. Our club's goal is to delve deeper into our Filipino culture and find what makes us who we are today. PACN is filled with carefully choreographed dances, beautifully made costumes, and well-written lines. But I encourage all of you to look past through these aspects of the show and focus on the deeper meaning. Focus on the smiles on our faces. There is a bond that connects us with not only each other, but with our ancestors who have paved this path for us. PACN allows the members and the audience to reflect on their heritage and what it's like to actually be Filipino. PSST has allowed us to open our minds to new ideas and open our hearts to new friends. Through the show, I hope you all feel that same love that we feel.

On behalf of the PSST Family, I thank you all for attending tonight's show and taking time out of your schedules to help celebrate the Filipino culture with us. Thank you to the members for dedicating so much of their time to make this show happen. Thank you to the PSST parents for always being there, whether it's providing houses for practices or making costumes for the show. Thank you to the alumni for your continual support and love for the club and its members. I would like to thank everyone who made this show possible. Without you all, PSST wouldn't be where it is today.

I encourage you all, especially those who are still in high school, to hang on tight to your roots. Your heritage is a part of you and isn't something you should forget about. Let your passion for the club fuel the curiosity for your culture. Have PSST be more than a bullet point on your resume, but a lesson in your life that'll carry on to adulthood. Let the thrill consume you and fill you with happiness you can't find somewhere else. PSST isn't just a club. It's a family – Forget About Me, I Love You.

love,

Jessamin Christa Asirit Yanos

The saying always goes: blood is thicker than water – but what happens when your faith in family is tested?

Justin Velasco (Jonathan del Rosario), the only child to his parents Joseph (CJ De Leon) and Evelyn (Megan Alfajora), is an adolescent Filipino boy starting off his junior year in high school. His best friend, Austin Aquino (Jonathan Tolentino) is ready for a new track season with him, while Justin and his girlfriend Mary (Bianca Belanio) have been going strong for the past two years. The only thing that seems to be wrong with his life is his relationship with his grandfather Roy (Jeremy Aquino), who has always disliked Justin for no clear reason.

> LIFE'S TRAIN HAS NOW MADE ITS STOP. NOW IT'S YOUR TURN TO BUY A TICKET, GET ON THE TRAIN, AND CONTINUE ON WITH LIFE.

Justin lives a promising life, with a bright future ahead of him, until tragedy suddenly strikes. It seems as though everything in his life goes wrong, all at once. This unforeseen turn of events leaves Justin no choice but to live with his grandparents in the Philippines. He must adjust to new customs and surroundings, while learning how to live with his grandfather. Lolo Roy refuses to accept Justin into his life, creating tensions in the family. Justin's only happiness is in his newfound friends Pia (Cassidy Kysoth), Scotty (Geo Cabatingan) and Barney (Jonathan Park), and his loving grandmother Joy (Jerica Magbitang) at home.

Justin has always lived his life with a positive attitude. He has constantly pushed through each obstacle in his life, and has made a reputation for himself as the perfect "guy next door." However, against a hurdle this big, will he crumble and fall, or overcome? Justin's story of true ups and downs will teach what it really means to just keep swimming (languyin mo lang) and the fact that family is all that matters.

The Star Spangled Banner
United States National Anthem

Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Lupang Hinirang
Philippine National Anthem

Bayang magiliw perlas ng silanganan
Alab ng puso sa dibdib mo'y buhay
Lupang Hinirang duyan ka nang magiting
Sa manlulupig di ka pasisiil
Sa dagat at bundok sa simoy at sa langit mo'y bughaw
May dilag ang tula at awit sa paglayang minamahal
Ang kislap ng watawat mo'y tagumpay na nagniningning
Ang bituin at araw niya'y kailan pa ma'y di magdidilim
Lupa ng araw ng luwalhati't pagsinta
Buhay ay langit sa piling mo
Aming ligaya, na pag may mang-aapi
Ang mamatay ng dahil sa iyo

choir suite

ORCHESTRATED BY MEGAN ALFAJORA

The choir suite was first showcased at our 15th PACN, under the direction of PSST alumni Ryan Tagle and Kirsten Manahan. The choir suite was designed to highlight the talented voices of our members, and to foster an additional opportunity to blend the Filipino and American cultures.

For our 2016 PACN, the selected songs will match the mood, themes and events of the skit. This will add more continuity to the show and a poetic touch to the narrative. We hope you enjoy the show tonight and allow yourself to be serenaded!

modern suite

Thirteen years ago, the modern suite was first incorporated into PACN to further capture the essence of youth and each differing generation. This addition to PACN drew many more members to our club. Every year, dancers are shaped as the modern suite helps members to discover their talents and strengthen their skills. The modern suite continues to celebrate the American heritage and upbringing of PSST members.

tribal suite

CHOREOGRAPHED BY JESSAMIN YANOS AND CJ DE LEON

Indigenous tribes, untouched by colonization, are scattered throughout the Philippine islands, including the Bagobo, Higaonon, and Ubo tribes. Dating back to even before Islam or Christianity were introduced to the Philippines, the dances of the Tribal Suite portray imitations of wildlife or rituals of worship and prayer to their gods.

sugod uno

Sugod Uno begins with a prayer to the gods, asking for guidance in choosing the best fields. The grounds are then cleared for planting, which includes burning or tearing down trees. The dance ends with a celebration for good harvest.

binaylan banog

This Higaonon dance is a reenactment of a mother hen caring for her banot, or her chicks. She then has to protect her young as a hungry hawk attacks. The hunter quickly becomes the hunted as the hawk is attacked and slain by nearby hunters.

kordilyera suite

CHOREOGRAPHED BY KRISTEN ALFAJORA AND FRANCIS DE LEON

The dances of this suite originate from the mountainous region of Northern Luzon, home to the Bontoc, Benguet, Ifugao, and Kalinga tribes. Despite Spanish advancement and imperialism in the Philippines, they maintained their custom and are passed down through the generations. Kordilyera dances depict the symbols of their daily lives, such as good harvest, health, peace, and war – and most importantly, to celebrate the tribes of the Kordilyera.

Salip is a dance native to the Kalinga tribe, portraying a warrior attempting to claim his bride by presenting to her a matrimonial blanket. The bride and her friends imitate the actions of a hen, while the warrior imitates a rooster at love play.

pattong

This dance originated from the Bontoc tribes in the Philippines. It shares its name with a dance from the tribe of Kalinga. In the Bontoc version, dancers represent two tribes in a battle and the two leaders battle to see who comes out on top.

moro suite

CHOREOGRAPHED BY JESSAMIN YANOS AND JEREMY AQUINO

The Moro Suite is named after the Moro (Muslim) people in the Philippines, the largest group of non-Christians in the country. Filipino Muslims have many cultural differences from the majority Christians, with influences from the Middle East, Indonesia, and Malaysia. The dances of the Moro Suite depict court life, legends of war, and stories of courtship.

Pagapir depicts a royal manner of "walking" among the Maranao people who live mainly around Lake Lanao. The ladies of the royal court perform this stately dance in preparation for an important event. The ladies gracefully manipulate the Aper (apir) or fan, while emphasizing their small steps, or kini-kini, which is a sign of good upbringing.

sagayan

Sagayan is a war dance depicting in dramatic fashion the steps their hero, Prince Bantugan, took upon wearing his armaments. It portrays the war he fought in and his subsequent victory. Performers, depicting fierce warriors, carry a shield with shell noisemakers in one hand and double-bladed sword in the other attempting rolling movements to defend their master.

maria clara suite

CHOREOGRAPHED BY KATRINA VERGEL DE DIOS AND AJ RIGOR

Nearly 400 years of Spanish rule left an irremovable mark on the Philippines, introducing all aspects of the Spanish culture. Elegant and romantic, the Maria Clara Suite embodies the grace and virtue of the mestiza Filipina as well as the boldness and masculinity of the mestizo Filipino, bringing attention to their courtship, and celebrating the richness and the charm of the Filipino culture.

Surtido is a square dance said to have originated in Bantayan, Cebu. It is a cobbling together of Spanish, Mexican, and French influences along with indigenous elements. The head pair, called caberceras, guides the side pairs, called costados, in varied quadrille formations.

cariñosa

The cariñosa is a Philippine folk dance of Hispanic origin. The word cariñosa is from the Spanish, meaning "the affectionate one." This is a courtship dance that portrays acts of flirtation between a man and a woman. The dancers perform steps resembling hide-and-seek movements.

rural suite

CHOREOGRAPHED BY CASSIDY KYSOTH AND JOSEPH JUNG

The Rural Suite originated from the Christian lowlands of the Philippines. With the colorful attire and lively, upbeat dance steps, the Rural Suite embodies the fiesta spirit and the never-ending positivity of the Filipino people, even after a long day of work in the fields. The dances of this suite are often the most widely known.

sayaw sa bangko

Sayaw sa Bangko is a folk dance from the Pangasinan province of the Philippines, usually performed at town fiestas. The dance translates to "dance on top of a bench" and displays couples performing on a narrow bench where they demonstrate their fluid movements and good balance.

Karatong represents the annual parade of Saint Augustine, where blossoming mango trees grow abundantly on the island of Cuyo. Ladies sway their colorful bunga manga, representing the flowers of the mango tree while the men strike lively beats with their bamboo tube, also known as karatong. The karatong is struck to a fast rhythm in order to bring good luck and drive away evil spirits.

CHOREOGRAPHED BY JESSAMIN YANOS AND CJ DE LEON

Tinikling is perhaps the most widely known dance from the Philippine archipelago. Those who know of this colorful and lively dance may go far to say it is the national dance. Tinikling, literally meaning "tikling-like," is an imitation of the tikling birds as they dodge the "traps," or bamboo sticks being tapped against the ground.

BAMBOTIES

PACN TINIK 2016

Dear PSST,

Alas, the night is over. The journey filled with laughs, sweat, tears, and memories has ended. And our ride is over. Not entirely, but for a brief moment. We will embark on this ride again, whether it's tomorrow or next year. Things might change but that feeling of excitement is and always will be present. And I owe it all to you guys. I love you all dearly.

To God: Thank you for blessing me with such a great family with whom I can share all these memories with.

To my family: For the millionth time, I would like to thank you guys for the support, the countless amount of rides, and the love you guys have given me through this 4 year journey.

To the Freshmen: That view of the crowd. That thrill. That rush that causes adrenaline to pump through your body even faster. I know this experience was new, scary, and nerve-wracking, but I thank all of you for taking that extra step and joining the club.

To the Sophomores: Hey, yall aren't the newbies anymore haha. I'm glad you all stuck around for a second time. You guys are going to be upperclassmen next year, but don't let it get into your head. Stay humble and stay hungry.

To the Juniors: You guys are something else. In a good way! Once you become seniors, remember that you all serve as role models, especially to the freshman. Good luck guys <3

To my Seniors: It's over. But it's not. We will always be there for each other and the memories will always be present. I thank each and every one of you for making my 4 years in PSST a crazy one. I've experienced so much love and tears throughout these years but I'm glad that it was with you guys. We did it. Our journey is over but our legacy will always continue. I love you guys (':

To Board: Hey look, we did it. ily all and I'm so glad I got to lead with such wonderful people. Long live #adoboard. Chris: Thank you for always being there for me & I'm glad we got to lead this club together. I can't wait to catch up with you 4 years from now & hear all of your loppy stories, haha. JJ: You worked super hard this year and I'm sure this foreshadows your college life. Francis: I hope you carry your passion for the club next year as well. AJ: Keep your eye on the prize man. Also, hmu if you need anything (': haha. Trina: Fave, I'm going to miss you. I see so much potential in you and I hope you see that. Jeremy: Even through the problems, you kept on going and I'm glad you signed up for board. You ken do it. Kristen: You did such a great job this year weeee. You'll go on to do great things next year, forsure. Cassidy: Cassss, I'm so glad you signed up for board this year. Thanks for being there all the time heh. No thank you for the "X" in the vlogs though.

To CVS: Coldstone? Didn't think we would this get close, but here we are, heh. Cute. It was a fun year and I hope CVS continues to stay lit even after we head to college!! JJ: Arf. I'm glad we got hella close this year. Good luck in the East Coast and visit me and Francis, yeah? Francis: You're a pretty lit person!! Don't miss us TOE much, ok? Have fun next year lol.

To my Breastfriend: Thanks for sticking with me all this time. Damn, 6 years... How have we not killed each other yet? Thanks for always being honest with me because it really has helped this past year. ily~

Pun of the day: There was once a superhero who got incredibly strong on Saturday and Sunday. So I guess Monday through Friday were his "weak" days. Heh... You know you're going to miss this. (-:

Love,
Jessamin Christa Asirit Yanos

Dear PSST Family:

To Adoboard: Each and every single one of you guys transformed into great leaders. As our term comes to an end, I wish the best to each of you. As in Lupe Fiasco's song, "The Show Goes On." We did it guys, Congrats! This group has had it's ups and downs, but in the end, we continued to share smiles with the club. Jessamin, you're probably tired of me. Thank you for everything you've taught me the past 2 years. JJ, you blossomed into a great director. Francis, I believe you have the potential to take the reign of the club. AJ, you've learned a lot this year. Let your experiences from the past 2 years guide you in the future. Katrina, you're finally becoming the leader I envision you to be. Jeremy, you're like the college roommate I'd love to have. Keep being yourself dude. Kristen, I'm glad you're coming out of your shell. Cassidy, I'm glad you continued the legacy of Public Relations this year.

To my beloved Seniors: Wow…time flies! We started off as boisterous freshmen to the seniors that never grew up. Let's cherish the moments we shared as a class. Don't be sad that it's over, but be happy that it happened. Memories will be made and cherished for years to come. As we go our separate paths, I want you to know that you all helped me shape into the character I am today. Ate, you helped me come out of my shell and become a leader within. Manguns, we'll always be bros for life. We've been through everything the past 3 years and you'll always be a a true homie for life. RAPHIE! Thanks for being the #bestculturalpartner2k16.

To the Juniors: The club relies on your hands next year, and I'm confident that you will keep it alive. I'm glad a lot of you guys have matured into leaders. As you guys become seniors, remember to be good role models to the younger classes. Cherish your high school memories and don't take anything for granted. Senior year goes by fast.

To the talented Sophomores: Wowi3! You guys aren't so small anymore. Remember to stick to your roots. To those of you who want to become future leaders, remember to set good examples to the new members next year. Soon your paths will intertwine and you guys will continue the club's legacy. Geo, JDRand Savy, I believe you guys can guide this club in the future so take care and learn the business.

To the little ones: Congratulations on completing your 1st PACN! You guys are probably going to be more outgoing after PACN. Remember the true definition of FAMILY, "Forget-About-Me-I-Love-You." You guys have three more years of high school so take one step at a time. Your true character will blossom as you discover yourself over the years.

To the Alumni: Thank you guys for your ongoing support. I don't know how far the club would have gone without you setting a great foundation for PSST. We will continue all of your legacies. Once a PSST, forever we will be Kapamilya.

To My Family: Mom and Dad, thank you for all the sacrifices that you have made for my brothers and I. We wouldn't be successful without your ongoing guidance, advice, and most importantly your love. Lola Carmen and Lola Francing, thank you for your sacrifices and constant guidance to me and my brothers to the right path in life. I'm ready to move on to the next chapter of my life. Thanks to you guys.

To the Audience: Thank you for coming today! Thank you for sharing this wonderful experience with our organization! Through the performance, you will see the club's hard work and dedication. We worked countless hours for this night and we hope you are enlightened by the PSST family production.

To God: Thank you for all the blessings. #blessup

DEAR PSST:

We did it! Thank you so much for all your hard work, effort, dedication, and time you put into this 17th annual PACN. It truly touches my heart thinking about each and every one of you and all the love you put into this show. I feel so blessed to have met all of you and to have shared such great experiences with you all. Most importantly, thank you for all the positivity you have brought me these two years I have been in the club, and for all the kindness and affection you have shown to me.

FRESHMEN: You guys are such an amazing group full of excitement, energy, and hope. I am glad I got to meet all of you and I wish you enjoy your first PACN to the fullest! It definitely is a heart-racing experience, and I hope you get to carry that adrenaline throughout the next three years and stick with this club. You guys are the future of PSST and I know that you guys will keep it going strong. Thank you for coming out of your comfort zones and leaping into the open arms of this club, it really means the world to me.

SOPHOMORES: This group definitely holds a special place to me since I joined the club with you guys last year, and in a sense I shared a lot of the "freshman experiences" of the club with you guys. Such a hormonal, boisterous, hyper group of children you guys are. Thank you for always brightening up my days with your loud voices, and I am excited to see how you guys will mature in the coming years.

JUNIORS: The group that I am arguably more close with than my seniors (oops). I don't know how to fit in so many emotions into a few sentences, really. I think you guys are an amazing group full of intelligence, motivation, emotion, and love. Thank you for all the countless memories we shared, thank you for letting me guide you guys, and thank you for all the love you have given me. I will never forget you guys.

SENIORS: I have a different relationship with you guys as a group since I didn't spend four years on the club with you all, but I still probably have the same level of gratitude as any other senior. It's amazing to see how we have grown as a group, and also to see how each of you have individually grown. We're graduating this year, so thanks for making my high school experience amazing. I hope all of you achieve amazing things in life after this, and thank you for being such an open hearted family to me.

BOARD: It has been an amazing experience to work with all of you guys, and I couldn't have asked for a better group of people to be with. I feel like we really stuck together as a group through rough times, and I am so proud of all of you for sticking with it and pushing this club to have another amazing year. Thank you all for always being dedicated, and for really putting your all into this club.

DIRECTORS (FRANCIS & AJ): Thank you guys for being the most amazing directors to work with. I am glad we got to put our vision of this show onto the big stage, and although it wasn't easy, I'm so glad that we pushed through our challenges. It really is amazing how far we have come.

MOM & DAD: Thank you for supporting me in all that I do because it means the world to me knowing that my family really cares about me. The directors and I wrote this skit about how family matters, so from the bottom of my heart, thank you for giving me the true love every child deserves. I love you Mom and Dad.

John F. Kennedy once said, "Leadership and learning are indispensable to each other." This past year I got to learn a lot about love, struggle, happiness, teamwork, commitment, and so much more things from leading this group of PSST members. From the bottom of my heart, thank you for changing my life in a really meaningful way, and I will never forget these experiences I shared with you guys. As I graduate this year and move out of the state to attend college, I will always cherish the moments I had with PSST and I hope you guys never forget me, because I sure as hell will never forget you.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH JUNG

PACN Director 2015-2016

Dear PSST,

Thank you for the past three years we have spent together - through the ups and downs and for all the lessons you have taught me. This club has changed me into the person I am today and I could not be any more grateful than that.

Freshmen: Congrats on your first PACN! Thanks for choosing us and I hope you enjoy your stay. I know we seem really scary at first, but thanks for seeing past that and becoming one of us. I hope that PSST has made an impact on your lives as much as it has made an impact on mine.

Sophomores: I honestly still think most of you guys are freshmen because none of you act different from last year. Pce.

Juniors: Hi :^)

Seniors: From Day 1 of my time here, you guys were always there. The loud, positive, cheerful group of people that would always be there at every event there was. The thought of not seeing you guys around next year scares me, but it's just a part of life you know. I'm glad that many of you were able to be in my life and make the impact that you guys have. Y'all will be missed.

Alumni: Many of you have gone through taking care of this club in the similar ways we have. You've left the club ready for the next year to keep it going and alive. To the graduated classes of PSST for helping us get to be where we are today: Thank you.

CVS: Life is life and there's nothing you can do about it. Every conversation we've ever had always started with a hello, but we never finished with a goodbye. Let's keep it that way. When the two of you are off facing the world for what it is, just remember where to find your daily dose of sanity. Open 24/7.

DirecTOES: We did it boys. The simple pitch of Justin Velasco and his story in the summer became this very night. It has been a pleasure and an honor to work with you both and I would like to thank you for the experience. It's been fun!

Adoboard: We made it. From the time at banquet I just knew this year was going to be fun with you guys, and I'm really glad that I wasn't wrong about that. There were times when it was too much fun and we got barely any work done, but in the end it all worked out.

Mom: Get the camera! On a more serious note, Mom a lot of the things that happened tonight would not have been possible without your support. Your questionable dedication to this club has helped us throughout the times when we needed it the most. I know I don't say this often, but I love you and I just want to thank you for everything you've done for me.

Dad: Thanks for being supportive of everything I do and for being there for me. Love you.

| PACN DIRECTOR 2015-2016 |
| PSST MEMBER 2013-FOREVER |

For my PSST Family...

My Savior: Never will I stop praising you, for you have gifted me so much already. It's only time to return the favor. You are my rock, strength and greater than all, friend. You put me through the numerous trials only to help me become a better person and servant for all. I ask that this club you have blessed me with, will forever prosper and grow just as your church will. Amen.

The Rigor Family: God bless this family. I love all of you immensely that the love can only be expressed when I'm with you all. Nevertheless, the name is not a generic last name which describes us impeccably, because all members of this family have definite uniqueness. Whether it is an annoying laugh, the amount of fierceness and pertinacity one has, or the one with the biggest gluteus maximus! We. Are. Unique. We even live and work by the defined meaning of "Rigor"! What more can I ask, other than be deemed the greatest family to be born into. I am proud to be a Rigor, and am excited to carry the verging generation. God Bless.

The Freshmen: I want to congratulate the class of 2019 for making such a rational decision by join the well-known PSST club. I also hope this year has effected you all individually, for future decisions you make will create who you are as a responsible person of society. By joining a club and participating in it, you distinguish yourself among your class as someone who can reach high places and never look down! Be proud of who you are, a vessel of knowledge for the next class, and the leading generation of PSST members. Never give up on something you follow and care about. Also, greet next year's class well! It will be very rewarding. I promise. God Bless.

The Sophomores: Y'all are so emphatic. You have two years to go, the next one is your most important year. How does it feel? Just remember exaggerated continuity is key and you'll do fine. Besides that, you guys have taken this club by storm, already dominating executive roles? Something very cool and special about your class. As always, this is your family, care for it, cherish it, and develop it, because you will all have the feeling of leaving something so sacred and memorable behind very soon. And it is unsettling, but you all will do great.

The Juniors: Hello Baegency. I love you all and please stop stressing, it is almost over. Freshman year, none of you were relevant af till the first meeting. We were basically feeble followers that whole year. Sophomore year comes, we lose some friends only to be attracted to the PSST family. This year we really got into the cream, I mean already discussing how we were going to delegate board positions? Classic. This also broke some of our bonds, but somehow we are still together. Love you all and we shall make next year our greatest year. Lel.

The Seniors: My inspirations, my knowledge, my guardians. You all have become so mature that each one of you have left several marks in PSST history. I'm glad to see that you all enjoyed this year and wish you the best of luck in college, but the journey is never over! I hope the majority of you all come to support as alumni because we will surely cherish it. The moments you leave behind are the vessels of knowledge that will keep the PSST club bustling. Prayers for your families, because college tuition... Oh man.

From yours truly,

AJ RIGOR

PACN Director 2015-2016

Dear PSST,

Yayay congrats to us for making this show possible. This unique group of people is so very special (in the best way possible, of course) and I am so blessed to be a part of it. Thank you very much to you wonderful people for attending all those after school & Saturday practices and for working your butts off. We always say and treat each other as family because it is so true. This year wouldn't have been the same without all of us sharing many laughs and most importantly, smiles together.

To my fabulous freshman: I hope your first PACN was as fun and exciting as it was for the rest of us. It may have seemed scary at first but you guys went out there and did everything we could've asked for. Hopefully, you remember that moment when you first step on stage or when you took the final bow at the end and hearing all the applause meant for you. Good job this year and trust me when I say you'll definitely enjoy being a part of this big one of a kind group of fascinating people.

To my boisterous sophomores: AYYOOO my class, my barkada!! We've made it half way fam. I'm glad we're always there for each other through everything and that I can count on every single one of you. PSST has helped us get closer together as a class and continues to help our friendships grow stronger every day. You guys never fail to make my day better in the weirdest funniest ways possible. I wouldn't ask for a better class to be a part of because you guys are high-key amazeballs. Two down, two to go mis amigos, lgi

To my marvelous juniors: I hope this year with the club has brought you much laughter and fun times as it has stress and sleepless nights LOL. You've all made it this far and you're almost you guys got this ¾ PACNS done. You all have a lot to offer to the club I can't wait to see what you will bring to us next year and watch you lead us to yet another successful show.

To my favorite seniors: You guys are finally done noOooOOo ... don't leave me ☹ Every one of you has made this year a great & special one. It honestly wouldn't have been the same without y'all. Shout out to you guys for always being there for everyone. You have done so much for the rest of us and have impacted us all one way or the other. I only wish you guys the best wherever life takes you and that you have a crazy & amazing time getting on that college grind soon. I'm going to miss you all very much just make sure to finish this year strong (even though I know that senioritis be hitting u hard) HAHA. Words cannot describe how much I will miss you all <3

To my fellow adoboarders: O SHOOOT. We made it friendz yaa. I gotta say it was pretty rough at times but we did it. Being on board with all of you has taught me a lot that I will remember for years to come. I'm so grateful for being able to go through this process with you guys. We have made many memories together that I will never forget. I am thankful for every single one of you. Tenks for everything fam. #ADOBOARD

To my seniors on board: Fave, I'm going to miss all your puns, oh my. I look forward to seeing you in your very own comedy show soon hehe. Aannnd thanks for being the perfect hug height. You the best Jess. Sistur, thank you very much for all those fruity conversations and always being there whenever I needed to talk about anything. Ilyvm Cass. Small boi (jk you big boy. yw), thanks for having my back all the time and all our food adventures will be missed dearly. Muchos gracias, Chris. SS panda giver, I'm actually going to really miss you bud. I'm especially going to miss your random hugs and loving the process & praising the lord with me. lol ty JJ.

To my loving family: Big thank you to my parents for the never ending support they give me. I really do appreciate everything you do like driving me to all those meetings & practices hah and for always trusting me to do the right thing. Also, shout out to Miguel for being that annoyingly funny little brother that apparently everyone seems to like. Even if you bug me a lot I wouldn't know what to do without you little bro. I love you guys so so so much ☺

Lastly, to the #1 man himself, God: Thanks for guiding me and everyone through this journey to our 17th annual PACN. Thank you for blessing me with all these wonderful people in my life and for all the love from you, my friends, and my family. Because heck yeah, family does matter.

Dear PSST Family:

Throughout the three years I have been at Troy, I have learned that PSST is not just your average club on campus. PSST primarily focuses on spreading the Filipino culture through dancing and singing, yet that is not all we do. PSST is a family—a family that works hard to overcome the struggles that we face being at such an academically rigorous school. Of course, everyone that is involved with Pilipinos Sharing Smiles Together wants an environment that is fun-filled and hardworking. We strive to learn about the Filipino culture, and in doing so, we accomplish goals with one another that only strengthen the bonds between us. I will always remember my time in PSST due to the various groups that have helped shape my experience in this club.

To the Fanatical Freshmen: You guys have only begun your journey. A bit naive and a bit confused, you guys still continue to find your prime group of friends that will accompany you to the very end. In joining PSST, y'all have made your first big step in your journey. Though a bit timid, your high spirits and boundless energy allow you to begin to express your personality with the club. Your first PACN has brought you closer to people that you would never have imagined you would have bonded with. You may have found friends that will be with you all your life. Or you may not have. Never fear, you guys still have 3 packed years of high school, and I wish you all the luck in this grand adventure. Time will go by fast, so make the most of it!

To the Silly Sophomores: Goodness Gracious. Y'all got so much feels. Now that you guys are in your second year of high school, you are becoming more "boist", and your personality is truly starting to show. In the second part of your journey, you begin to have an idea of the friends you will maintain for quite a while. Responsibility continues to overwhelm you, and your dedication to the club can be seen in you amazing performance in your second PACN. Time is still running along, and you guys don't realize the physical and mental changes within you. However, PSST will remain your refuge for all the struggles in Troy. Keep working hard in whatever you do, as you still have a large part of your journey that you must persevere through.

To the Jittery Juniors: Wowie. My class. So much cheese. I truly love you guys. You all have accompanied me throughout my whole high school career, and I am forever thankful. I share many of my memories with you guys, many of which include prior PACN seasons. From Super Smash, to Bdubs, to KBBQ, I will always cherish THS Class of 2017 in my heart. Junior year, which is well-known for being the most difficult year in high school, was a year of cheers and tears. We are almost done with our journey, yet we still have to do well and work hard to get to the college of our dreams. Third PACN over, and we look nothing like we did freshman year. Our experiences have transformed us into the people we are today. I wish you guys the best of luck in the last part of our adventure as we become the men and women of the future.

To the Spectacular Seniors: The role models of PSST. The ones I look up to (or down to). I kinda really hella love y'all. I have had so many memories with you guys. You guys are about finished with your journey. Having always been with me in PSST, you guys have taught me to be strong and independent. So many life lessons have been learned with you guys, and I have "revelated" with you guys more times than I could imagine. My kuyas and ates, y'all are done with your final PACN and you should feel accomplished. Creating a strong social foundation, you could flourish in any college you go to. Thank you guys for being there for me and for making me feel at home in this club. It's so sad that you guys are leaving, but I will always remember you guys, and I hope you guys visit sometime. #homiesforlife

To the one and only ADOBOARD: You guys are so goofy. Thank you for supporting me in everything I do. I want to congratulate all of you guys because WE DID IT!!! COMIN IN CLUTCH, EVERY. SINGLE. TIME. Working with y'all was an amazing learning experience as I have learned to become more responsible and hardworking. Becoming treasurer was much more work than I initially thought, but with the support of all of you, I was able to push through and achieve more than I thought I could have achieved. The memories we had together was truly unforgettable, and I hope that being on board will allow you to get into college. . . BUT MORE IMPORTANTLY, I hope that with the experience we have gained, we will be able to apply these leadership skills to other aspects of our life. Thanks friends :)

To the significant other parts of my life, God and my family: Thank you, mom and dad, for supporting me and for allowing me to be in this club lol. You have guided me in making the right choices and have made God an important part of my life. To my siblings, thank you for being buddies with my friends. I will always think it's a bit weird, but in the end, it's all cool (I think). And thank you God for blessing me on this journey and allowing me to bond with so many people in such a short amount of time. I thank you for allowing me to learn from difficult experiences, and for letting me achieve so much. Without you, there would be no possible way I could have persevered through all my struggles. I love everyone.

PSST Treasurer 2015-2016

to my psst family:

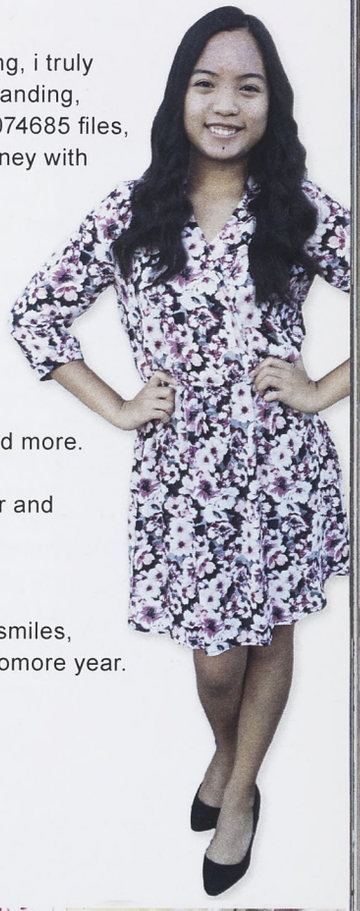
after weeks of anticipation and worry and excitement, we finally reached the day we've been preparing for. firstly, thank you to all the members who have put so much time, effort, and devotion into this show and this club.

TO THE FRESHMEN: congratulations on making it through your first PACN! i applaud you for joining this very crazy group and i sincerely hope that you stick around for the next 3 years, and that even more of your class will join us all soon. let's get closer next year ya? hang in there!

TO THE SOPHOMORES: wowie it's u guys. y'all are crazy and dramatic af, but i love u anyway. i'm really glad i met each one of you. thanks for getting me through this year, PSST-related or not. thanks for sending me euro hw and skyping before spanish tests. you guys have so much potential as leaders in this club, so i hope we all carry on the legacy through the next two years, and onward. i believe in you and love you all #ilymsydek

TO THE JUNIORS: heyyyyyyyyy. thank you for always making me laugh and basically being such an amazing group of people. i've always admired you guys and your dynamic relationship, and how carefree and fun y'all are as a whole. i'm proud to call you my friends and my peers. glo up

TO THE SENIORS: your last PACN :') i've learned so much from you guys these past two years. thank you for being the greatest mentors, role models, and friends. you guys as a class truly have so much talent, and i know you're going to move on to become great people and do great things. i'll miss you guys <3



TO ADOBOARD: after coming in clutch for nearly a year now LOL, we made it! ever since our first meeting, i truly felt the bond between us all. through every trial and struggle, we worked through it with patience, understanding, and kindness. thank you for always listening to me bug you about deadlines, asking you to email me 139074685 files, and for cooperating with me and helping me with my many burdens. i'm so glad i decided to take this journey with you. it's been an amazing year. i love you guys so much.

TO ATE & SHANNON: boovs!!! ate, thank you for sticking with me through this school year. i know it got really hard at times, and we barely wanted to go on, but thanks for trudging through our challenges with me. also hbd. shannon, you've always been such a strong and independent baby love you! thank you for keeping a smile on my face and for being such a cutie.

TO MOM & DAD: thank you guys for all your support and sacrifice for me and this club. thanks for lunch money and the many drives back and forth to practices/board meetings. love you two with all my heart and more.

TO GOD: thank You for guiding me, for keeping me safe, for giving me the will to carry on, even with choir and school on top of PSST. please continue to be my guiding light and always give me the faith, strength, and courage i need.

TO MY SECOND FAMILY: thank you for teaching me leadership. thank you for the laughs, the tears, the smiles, and the many fantastic memories that i'll cherish in my heart. thank you for granting me an amazing sophomore year.

until next time!

love,

kristen candace alfajora

dear my psst family,

thank you psst for another successful pacn! i could not have spent my four years of high school with a greater family than ours. i am forever grateful for the friendships, lessons, laughter, tears, and memories that we've shared. you guys make me feel truly happy and blessed. ily.

FRESHMEN: hello freshmennn! i hope you had a memorable and enjoyable first pacn. it's crazy to think that i joined this family four years ago. i thought i had so much time ahead of me.. i was wrong. these years will be the fastest years you've yet to experience. make sure you cherish and spend them with your psst fam heh. unfortunately, i only get to spend one year with you, but within the short time that i've known you, i've grown to love you all so much. i hope that you continue to try new things and find yourselves. you guys are such a bright group of individuals and i know that you will continue to do great things for psst. love you and make me proud (":

SOPHOMORES: to be honest, i never thought that i would become as close to you guys as i am. within our two years together, i've grown to love you all so much, even jt, geo, and jdr. heh. your freshman year, you were all so quiet and shy. what happened? lol jk. i couldn't be happier that you guys never shut up. i wouldn't have made such good friends if you never opened up to us. thank you for the random texts and hugs. this class is truly talented and i can't wait to see what great things are in store for you. stay crazy.

JUNIORS: shoot, i am really going to miss you guys. you've grown to become some of my best friends and i can't believe my time with you is already over. you are so passionate and such a joy to be around. i couldn't have asked for a better class to spend 3 years of high school with. thank you for always making me laugh and always being there for me. there's only one more year of high school left for y'all. create some memories and cherish the short time that you have left. it's going to go by really fast, trust. keep doing what you guys love. i love you guys so much.

SENIORS: sigh i don't even know where to start. you guys have been with me the longest and through it all. we made it. thank you for being my best friends and for giving me the best four years of my life. i honestly mean it when i say i couldn't have spent it with a better group of people. we started this club freshman year, such a large group of friends overwhelmed by it all. it's four years later and we're all still part of this family, stronger and closer than ever before. we definitely made some unforgettable memories together that i will forever carry with me for the rest of my life. i hope that you guys do the same (": although this is the end of our time together in high school, i am positive that it is not the end of us. family is forever and you are the best family ever. much love to my best friends.

ADOBOARD: YESSA. thank you for four years of friendship! i remember meeting you the first day of freshman year and crying with you after practice when we really didn't know why. ily so much & stay hot. CJ. thank you for letting me tease you all the time. jk everyone does heh. but honestly you're a great friend and you're always there for me when i need someone to talk to. love you chris! JJ. thank you for driving me everywhere & putting up with me & being fruity with me. ily and we're gonna be friends for a long time so bye (-: FRANCIS. toes. thanks for being a toetally radical friend! & for listening to my pointless stoeries & playing late night bgo & toeribble toe puns. ily franny! AJ. thanks for always ukuleleing with me and not killing me first when we play boxhead or tiny tanks. lol but seriously, you're one of the funniest people i know and i'm definitely going to miss you. 1rigor4lyf0. TRINA. sistur, you already know how much i love you. you've grown so much since your freshman year and somehow became one of my best friends. i'll always be here for you through laughs and tears. ptl & ltp. JERMS. thanks for always being there for me. i couldn't have asked for a better brother/best friend than you. ily je. (aquinoblings, thanks for being the sisters i never had. ily bears). KRISTEN. thank you for serenading me with your beautiful voice. i'm so glad that we've grown closer this past year. you're so talented and kind that it's almost unbelievable. i love you so much (":

Through all the hardships we've been through these past few years. Our amazing attitude of love, acceptance, and perseverance had shone through to one another. Although different people and unique in our own ways, we have all met under these common goals; to demonstrate compassion, understand others, and be proud of who we are. As a diverse group from many walks of life we can be proud to say our friendships have been the strongest ever. Each of us has a purpose… a contribution… in this group no one shall feel rejected or lost. Rather they will only feel the love and acceptance that PSST has given to us as proud members. – The Breakfast Squad
